Education
L
13
.N2227
v. 33

Research Bulletin

OF THE

National Education Association

INDEX TO VOLUME XXXIII, 1955

Administrative and supervisory staff: distribution of salaries, urban school districts over 30,000 in population, 76; distribution of salaries, urban school districts under 30,000 in population, 77; index relationships of median salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 80-81; median salaries, urban school districts over 30,000 in population, 67; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

Attendance officers: distribution of salaries, 79; index relationships of median salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 80-81; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

Audio-visual education, administration of: administrative officer to whom the director of audio-visual education is responsible, 96; audio-visual education departments, 1946 and 1954, 95; centralization of, 94-95; conclusions, 123; director, other major duties of, 97; director, position of, in centralized programs, 95-99; director, selection of, 96; director, staff assistants of, 98, 99; distribution of lists of available materials, 101; evaluation of administrative organization, 121; frequency of delivery and pickup of materials, 101; school time devoted to audio-visual work by director, 97; services available in all schools, 99-101; type of organization, 94; types of services provided, 100.

Audio-visual education, evaluation of progress: administrative organization, 121; barriers to the use of materials, 122-23; handicaps to use of materials, 123; physical facilities, materials, and equipment, 121-22; preservice and inservice education of teachers, 122; reasons for lack of interest in using materials, 123.

Audio-visual education, financial support for: amounts per pupil, 118-19; distribution of amounts per pupil, 118, 119; financial considerations, 119-20; increase in budget for, 119; medians of amounts per pupil enrolled, 118; purpose of funds, exclusive of salaries, 118.

Audio-visual education, physical facilities, equipment, and materials: adaptation of classrooms for using audio-visual materials, 103; equipment, 104-107; equipment, types available, 104; equipment available, 1946 and 1954, 105; equipment available per 10,000 students enrolled, 105; evaluation of, 121-22; facilities, types available, 102; materials, 107-110; materials, types available, 107; materials available, 1946 and 1954, 108; materials available per 10,000 students enrolled, 108; physical plant facilities, 102-104; selection of equipment, final responsibility for, 106; selection of equipment, persons or groups who assist, 106; selection of materials, final responsibility for, 109; selection of materials, persons or groups who assist, 109.

Audio-visual education, urban school districts, 1953-54: administration of, 94-101; evaluation of progress, 121-23; financial support for, 118-20; grouping of replies, 93; number and percent of school districts included, 93; physical facilities, equipment, and materials, 102-110; school districts included, 93; use of audio-visual materials, 111-17.

Audio-visual materials, use of: building coordinator for, percent of schools having, 112; education of classroom teachers for, 111-13; effectiveness of use in curriculum areas, 117; effectiveness of use in secondary-school curriculum areas, 116; facilitating use in individual schools, 113-14; frequency of use, 114-16; frequency of use of filmstrips and slides, audio materials, and community resources, 116; inservice education in, 112; motion pictures, frequency of use, 114; motion pictures, frequency of use, 1946 and 1954, 115; time for audio-visual work, building coordinators, 113.

Carr, William G.: forewords, 4, 60, 92, 128.

Charleston, West Virginia: referred to, 61.

Consumer Price Index: referred to, 71, 119.

Demand for teachers, degree-granting institutions: comparison, regular teachers and new teachers, by sex and fields of teaching, 146; concept of, 144; conclusion, 153; future needs, 152, 153; in 1953-54 and 1954-55, 145, 147; limitation of concept, 144-45; men teachers by fields of teaching, new teachers and total staff, 146; new teachers, by sex and field of teaching, in 1953-54 and 1954-55, 145, 147; preparation of new teachers, 147, 148; shortages, 151, 153; sources of new teachers, 147, 149; unfilled demand, 149, 150, 153.

Earned Degrees Conferred by Higher Educational Institutions: reference, 130, 155, 156, 157.

George Washington University, Washington, D. C.: referred to, 4.

Handbook for Substitute Teachers: referred to, 40.

Janitors: distribution of salaries, 79; index of relationships of median salaries, 81; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 68-70.

Kanawha County, West Virginia: referred to, 61.

National Education Association: referred to, 15, 60, 92, 128.

National Education Association, Division of Audio-Visual Instructional Service: referred to, 93.

National Education Association, National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards: Journal of Teacher Education, reference, 129.

National Education Association, Research Division: Advance Estimates of Public Elementary and Secondary Schools for the School Year 1953-54, reference, 9; "Audio-Visual Education in City-School Systems," December 1946, reference, 93; Economic Status of Teachers in 1954-55, reference, 71, 120; "Instructional Staff Practices and Policies in Degree-Granting Institutions, 1953-54," December 1954, reference, 129, 130, 137, 138, 149; referred to, 4, 21, 60, 61, 63, 92, 93, 94, 128, 129, 130, 137, 149; Research Bulletins, referred to, 61, 93; "Rural Teachers in 1951-52," February 1953,

Education
L
13
.N2227
v. 33

Research Bulletin

OF THE

National Education Association

INDEX TO VOLUME XXXIII, 1955

Administrative and supervisory staff: distribution of salaries, urban school districts over 30,000 in population, 76; distribution of salaries, urban school districts under 30,000 in population, 77; index relationships of median salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 80-81; median salaries, urban school districts over 30,000 in population, 67; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

Attendance officers: distribution of salaries, 79; index relationships of median salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 80-81; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

Audio-visual education, administration of: administrative officer to whom the director of audio-visual education is responsible, 96; audio-visual education departments, 1946 and 1954, 95; centralization of, 94-95; conclusions, 123; director, other major duties of, 97; director, position of, in centralized programs, 95-99; director, selection of, 96; director, staff assistants of, 98, 99; distribution of lists of available materials, 101; evaluation of administrative organization, 121; frequency of delivery and pickup of materials, 101; school time devoted to audio-visual work by director, 97; services available in all schools, 99-101; type of organization, 94; types of services provided, 100.

Audio-visual education, evaluation of progress: administrative organization, 121; barriers to the use of materials, 122-23; handicaps to use of materials, 123; physical facilities, materials, and equipment, 121-22; preservice and inservice education of teachers, 122; reasons for lack of interest in using materials, 123.

Audio-visual education, financial support for: amounts per pupil, 118-19; distribution of amounts per pupil, 118, 119; financial considerations, 119-20; increase in budget for, 119; medians of amounts per pupil enrolled, 118; purpose of funds, exclusive of salaries, 118.

Audio-visual education, physical facilities, equipment, and materials: adaptation of classrooms for using audio-visual materials, 103; equipment, 104-107; equipment, types available, 104; equipment available, 1946 and 1954, 105; equipment available per 10,000 students enrolled, 105; evaluation of, 121-22; facilities, types available, 102; materials, 107-110; materials, types available, 107; materials available, 1946 and 1954, 108; materials available per 10,000 students enrolled, 108; physical plant facilities, 102-104; selection of equipment, final responsibility for, 106; selection of equipment, persons or groups who assist, 106; selection of materials, final responsibility for, 109; selection of materials, persons or groups who assist, 109.

Audio-visual education, urban school districts, 1953-54: administration of, 94-101; evaluation of progress, 121-23; financial support for, 118-20; grouping of replies, 93; number and percent of school districts included, 93; physical facilities, equipment, and materials, 102-110; school districts included, 93; use of audio-visual materials, 111-17.

Audio-visual materials, use of: building coordinator for, percent of schools having, 112; education of classroom teachers for, 111-13; effectiveness of use in curriculum areas, 117; effectiveness of use in secondary-school curriculum areas, 116; facilitating use in individual schools, 113-14; frequency of use, 114-16; frequency of use of filmstrips and slides, audio materials, and community resources, 116; inservice education in, 112; motion pictures, frequency of use, 114; motion pictures, frequency of use, 1946 and 1954, 115; time for audio-visual work, building coordinators, 113.

Carr, William G.: forewords, 4, 60, 92, 128.

Charleston, West Virginia: referred to, 61.

Consumer Price Index: referred to, 71, 119.

Demand for teachers, degree-granting institutions: comparison, regular teachers and new teachers, by sex and fields of teaching, 146; concept of, 144; conclusion, 153; future needs, 152, 153; in 1953-54 and 1954-55, 145, 147; limitation of concept, 144-45; men teachers by fields of teaching, new teachers and total staff, 146; new teachers, by sex and field of teaching, in 1953-54 and 1954-55, 145, 147; preparation of new teachers, 147, 148; shortages, 151, 153; sources of new teachers, 147, 149; unfilled demand, 149, 150, 153.

Earned Degrees Conferred by Higher Educational Institutions: reference, 130, 155, 156, 157.

George Washington University, Washington, D. C.: referred to, 4.

Handbook for Substitute Teachers: referred to, 40.

Janitors: distribution of salaries, 79; index of relationships of median salaries, 81; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 68-70.

Kanawha County, West Virginia: referred to, 61.

National Education Association: referred to, 15, 60, 92, 128.

National Education Association, Division of Audio-Visual Instructional Service: referred to, 93.

National Education Association, National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards: Journal of Teacher Education, reference, 129.

National Education Association, Research Division: Advance Estimates of Public Elementary and Secondary Schools for the School Year 1953-54, reference, 9; "Audio-Visual Education in City-School Systems," December 1946, reference, 93; Economic Status of Teachers in 1954-55, reference, 71, 120; "Instructional Staff Practices and Policies in Degree-Granting Institutions, 1953-54," December 1954, reference, 129, 130, 137, 138, 149; referred to, 4, 21, 60, 61, 63, 92, 93, 94, 128, 129, 130, 137, 149; Research Bulletins, referred to, 61, 93; "Rural Teachers in 1951-52," February 1953, reference, 9; "Salaries and Salary Schedules of City-School Employees, 1948-49," April 1949, reference, 84; "Salaries and Salary Schedules of Urban School Employees, 1954-55," April 1955, reference, 93; "Salary-Schedule Provisions or Salaries Paid in Degree-Granting Institutions, 1952-53," December 1953, reference, 130; "Teacher Personnel Practices, 1950-51: Appointment and Termination of Service," February 1952, reference, 21; "Teacher Personnel Procedures, 1950-51: Employment Conditions in Service," April 1952, reference, 6; "Teaching Load in 1950," February 1951, reference, 10, 12, 14.

National Education Association, Salary Committee: referred to, 60.

Nurses: distribution of salaries in 1954-55, 79; index relationships of median salaries, 80-81; trends in salaries paid, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

Orientation of Day-by-Day Substitute Teachers: referred to, 40.

Principals: distribution of salaries, 74, 75; index relationships of median salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 80-81; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

References: on substitute teachers, 55.

Salaries: forms and definitions used in collecting data, 87; median salaries, indexes of relationships of, 80-81; methods and technics of making salary survey, 61-62; of substitute teachers, 8, 18-20, 46-48; range and distribution of, in 1954-55, 72-79; relative value of, 71; trends in salaries paid, 63-71.

Salaries, indexes of relationships of median: in urban school districts over 30,000 in population, 80; in urban schools districts under 30,000 in population, 81.

Salaries, methods and technics of making survey: cautions in using data, 62; groupings of school districts, 61-62; inquiry form, change in, 62; methods of making survey, 61; size of sample, 62.

Salaries, range and distribution of, in 1954-55: distribution of salaries paid administrative and supervisory officers, urban school districts, 76, 77; distribution of salaries paid attendance officers, nurses, and janitors, 79; distribution of salaries paid principals, urban school districts, 74, 75; distribution of salaries paid secretarial and clerical employees, 78; distribution of salaries paid teachers, urban school districts, 72, 73.

Salaries paid, 1930-31 to 1954-55: general trends since 1930-31, 63; in specific groups, 63-71; median salaries, administrative and supervisory staff, urban school districts over 30,000 in population, 67; relative value of salaries, 71; trends in salaries paid employees in urban school districts, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64, 65, 66, 68, 69, 70.

Salary schedules: distribution of maximum salaries, single-salary schedules, urban school districts over 100,000 in population, 84; distribution of minimum salaries, single-salary schedules, urban school districts over 100,000 in population, 83; for classroom teachers, 82-86; increments scheduled, 83-84; minimum and maximum salaries, 82-83; number reporting salary schedules, 82; prevalence of, for classroom teachers, 82; salary differentials based on preparation, single-salary schedules, urban school districts over 100,000 in population, 85; size of increments, single-salary schedules, urban school districts over 100,000 in population, 86; trends and relationships, 84-85, 86.

Secretarial and clerical employees: distribution of salaries, 78; index relationships of median salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 80, 81; trends in salaries, 1930-31 to 1954-55, 64-66, 68-70.

Single-salary schedules: differentials based on preparation, 83, 85; increments, 83-84, 86; minimum and maximum salaries, 82-83, 84; prevalence of, 82; trends and relationships, median minimum and median maximum salaries, 84-85, 86.

Statistics of Higher Education: reference, 155, 156.

Status and Working Relationships of Substitute Teachers in Urban School Systems: reference, 5; referred to, 4.

Substitute teachers, coordination and working relationships: advance notice, 26-27; amount of notice for work the same day, 27; attitudes of regular teachers toward substitutes, 32-33; central office and the substitute, 35-42; committees on coordination of regular and substitute services, 40; correction of written work by substitutes, 30-31; films and filmstrips, use of, by substitutes, 35; grouping for instruction, information on, 28; high-school and college students, use as substitutes, 36; information about pupils left for substitute, 27-28; instructions provided on school routines, 32; lesson plans for substitutes, 26; materials provided for substitutes, 38; meetings for substitutes, 39; obstacles to effective work, 25-26; preparation of students for working with substitutes, 29-30; rating and evaluation of substitute services, 41; regular teacher and the substitute, 26-32; reports on work done, 31-32; scarcity of substitutes, secondary-school fields, 36; school and the substitute, 32-34; schoolboard rules, 37; seating chart for the substitute, 28; student helpers for the substitute, 28-29; substitutes escorted to their rooms, 33; substitutes introduced to pupils, 33; supply of substitutes, 35-37; thanks for work, 30.

Substitute teachers, in the public schools, 1953-54: coordination and working relationships, 25-42; current status of, 9-24; problems and proposals, 43-54; purposes and technics of study, 5-8.

Substitute teachers, problems and proposals: coordination and working relationships, 49-54; facing major tasks, 54; status of, 43-49.

Substitute teachers, purposes and technics of study of: definitions, 5; distribution of questionnaires of superintendents, 8; number and percent of substitute teachers returning questionnaires, 7; organization of report, 8; procedure for study, 5-8; purposes of study, 5; reliability of data, 8; salaries reported, 8.

Substitute teachers, status: age, 9; attendance at professional association meetings, 16; children of, 10; days worked, 17-18; earnings, annual and daily, 18-19; economic status, 17-20; education, amount of, 11-12; education, recency of, 12-13; experience as full-time teachers, 14; experience as substitutes, 14-15; factors in selection of, by superintendents, 16-17; fringe benefits, 21-23; marital status, 9-10; membership in professional associations, 15-16; other employment, 20; pay of, compared with pay of regular teachers, 19; personal traits, 9-11; previous substitutions for same teacher, 23; previous work in same school, 23-24; professional status, 11-17; salary plans, 19-20; salary splitting, 20; sex, 9; substitute teaching assignments, 23-24; substitute teaching assignments, length of, 23; substitutions for different teachers, 24; types, 11; unlicensed teaching, 13-14.

Supply of teachers, degree-granting institutions: bachelor's degrees, 155-57; conclusion, 161; degrees conferred, record of, 155; doctor's degrees, 156, 157-58; eligibility for college teaching, 154-55; general education teachers, 158, 160, 161; master's and doctor's degrees by field of study, 157, 158; master's degrees, 156, 157; oversupply, 158, 159.

Teacher supply and demand, degree-granting institutions, 1954-55: coverage of study, 131-32; definitions, 131; demand for teachers, 144-53; description of study, 129-32; enrolments, participating institutions, 132; future possibilities, 162-63; need for study, 129-30; number of full-time teachers, participating institutions, 132; number of replies, 131; plan of study, 130-31; purpose of study, 130; status of present teaching staff, 133-43; supply of teachers, 154-61; types of institutions, designation of, 131.

Teachers' salaries: See Salaries.

Teaching staff, status in degree-granting institutions: age, 138, 139, 141; conclusion, 142-43; distribution by teaching fields, 133, 135, 136, 137; part-time teachers, 141, 142; preparation, 137-38; retirement age, service beyond, 140, 141; sex, 133; sex distribution, by field of teaching, 133, 134, 136; sex distribution, by type of institution, 133, 134; social security coverage, 140, 141; student-teacher ratio, 141, 142; temporary teachers, 142; temporary teachers, by field of teaching, 142; temporary teachers, by type of institution, 142.

Trends: in earned degrees granted, 155-58; in salaries paid employees in urban school districts, 63-71; in salary schedules, 84-85, 86.

U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics: referred to, 71.

U. S. Census, 1950: referred to, 5.

World War II: referred to, 63, 65, 155.